We're ready, Are you?

It's time the for the second ISCO 2022 International congress.

We are thrilled to share the good news with you.

We are back this year even more excited about the pioneering theme and the lineup of eminent speakers attending the event.

The choice of the innovative theme of this year is for a reason, It once started as "Precision Medicine", and it has been evolving since then. Now "Personomics" is the way to go .... A comprehensive and tailored plan for every patient unique needs is the new direction of Oncology.

We are moving fast toward personalised medicine. The new oncology is here and so are we; thus, the theme "The rise of Personomics" is the trend of this year's event.

We promise you an unforgettable congress where the exchange of knowledge is harmonised with experience to serve the understanding of the new comprehensive oncology approach with the edge of the attendance of the greatest oncology minds on the planet.

Save the date for: May 12th - 13th, 2022

Venue: Marriott Cairo Hotel & Omar El-Khayyam Casino, Cairo, Egypt.

Purpose and Format

The purpose of this year's congress still falls under the ISCO mission: The equality in oncology education to our fellow oncologists around the globe. Though this year we had added the Personomics twist to the mission as it's not anymore about pure medical oncology, thus, we broadened our spectrum this time for other specialties to take part as clinical pharmacists, palliation experts, oncology and palliative care nurses to bring the light on the latest scientific updates in the field of personalized medicine to understand more about the advancement in this arena and dig deeper into the comprehensive approach toward the patients' treatment journey.

The Format: It's a 2-day event

Each day is dedicated to certain disease areas that will be posted very soon on the ISCO website.

Topics

- Breast Cancer
- Endocrine Neoplasms
- Gastrointestinal Malignancies
- Genitourinary Malignancies
- Gynecologic Cancers
- Haematology
- Head & Neck Cancers
- Lung and Thoracic Cancers
- Precision Medicine
- Sarcomas
- Skin Cancer

Participation

Participation is open to all oncologists, pharmacists, nurses and scientists interested in oncology and personalized medicine either through a physical participation or through Zoom meetings.

Abstracts Submission

Accepted abstracts are to be considered for oral or poster presentation.

- Abstract submission deadline: March 30th, 2022.
- Abstract acceptance notification: April 7th, 2022.
- Abstracts should be submitted electronically via e-mail on abstract@isco-eg.org.

ISCO Scholarship

ISCO Scholarship Background:

- The Scholarship is a participant-tailored 4-week fully sponsored preceptorship program in which the participant accompanies the oncology medical staff at Institut Gustave Roussy (IGR) through their daily hospital and academic routines, sharing experiences with doctors, residents, research staff and students.
- The ISCO scholarship program offers a unique opportunity to expand the experience of the eligible participant in clinical oncology and research skills. This program is designed for continuous education and not for academic credit.

Purpose & Mission:

- Carrying the vision of the International School of Clinical Oncology (ISCO) which is the equality in education for young oncologists, The ISCO scholarship is designed to serve this purpose.
- To enable young oncologists to achieve academic excellence through exchange of medical academic knowledge and gain research skills that will further enhance their careers as leaders in oncology.

ISCO Scholarship

The Scholarship Design:

- The interested medical professional shall register to the ISCO scholarship prior to the ISCO congress held 12th & 13th of May 2022 to be an enrollee of the scholarship contest.
- The Enrollees are required to sit for an exam at the end of ISCO congress held in Mariott Zamalek hotel on the 13th of May 2022.
- The winner will be announced after the ISCO congress, specific announcement date will be shared to the enrollees knowing that the results are automated and computer-based.
- The winner is now an ISCO scholarship participant and shall be ready to travel to Institut Gustave Roussy (IGR) by the late third or early fourth quarter (August- October) of 2022.
- The scholarship is a 4-week participant-tailored fully sponsored preceptorship program at Institut Gustave Roussy (IGR).
- The International School of Clinical Oncology (ISCO) will be responsible for the flight tickets, accommodation and the medical program of the eligible winning participants in addition to the daily life expenses.
- The participant is required to rotate on different oncology departments, become a part of multi-disciplinary teams (MDTs), participates in research activities, accompany the oncology medical staff through their daily hospital and academic routines, and share experiences with doctors, residents, research staff and students of Institut Gustave Roussy (IGR)
